Communiqué from the Government of the Republic of Guinea concerning the Gulf crisis

The Government of the Republic of Guinea is gladdened by the news of the suspension of hostilities following Iraq's withdrawal from Kuwait and unconditional acceptance of all the twelve (12) Security Council resolutions relating to the Gulf crisis.

The people of Guinea is deeply hopeful that all hotbeds of tension in that part of the world will be eliminated and is greatly heartened by the termination of this crisis, which has produced so many innocent victims and caused incalculable material losses.

With the help of courageous political will on the part of all the parties involved and with support from all countries which seek peace and social justice, everything must be done to facilitate the achievement of a permanent cease-fire, this being an essential precondition for the creation of an atmosphere of lasting and just peace in the region.

Such an attitude will then permit the peoples who have been reconciled to confront the many challenges facing them after this unfortunate crisis.
